Truman to Stress 'Crisis' In Special Congress Talk

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—President Truman will go before both houses of Congress on St. Patrick's Day to deliver a special, possibly momentous message on the international situation—described by Secretary of State Marshall as "very, very serious."

The White House, announcing this today, declined to give any inkling of what Mr. Truman would say in the 15 to 20-minute address, which will be broadcast by major networks at 12:30 p. m. (Pottstown time).

There was immediate, unofficial speculation, that he might call for new measures to block Communist expansion in Europe.

One senator, asking not to be quoted by name, said he heard the President may tell the lawmakers Russia has suggested mutual defense pacts to Denmark, Norway and Sweden.

THERE WAS NO confirmation of this at the White House, State department or at the embassies of the Scandinavian countries.

Another congressional source, also declining to be named, said he understood Norway had been approached by the Soviets and an indirect "feeler" made to Stockholm. He said he did not know about the mark.

There was also speculation that the President may speak chiefly about his preparedness—perhaps renewing his plea for a universal military training law.

HOUSE SPEAKER MARTIN (R-Mass.) said he had no advance knowledge of the President's plans but understood that Mr. Truman has some new information on the foreign situation which he wants to give to Congress.

The President said the past week has been a time of world peace that his conference in world peace is somewhat shaken.

And today:

1. The State department served notice that Italy down for a large share of U. S. help under the Marshall plan, won't get a nickel if she goes Communist.
2. Marshall, declaring "The hour is far more fateful now than it was a year ago," said this country must act "with calm deliberation" to prevent the further spread of Communism in Europe.
3. The Senate passed, without a dissenting vote, a bill allowing merchant ships to be armed in time of national emergency. This bill, however, has been on its way through the legislative machinery for some time, and was not introduced because of recent developments abroad.

The Senate armed services committee, which was to have opened hearings on universal military training tomorrow with Marshall as the first witness, postponed the session until after Mr. Truman's address.

Dr. David Alexander Appointed to Staff At Pottstown Hospital

Dr. David B. Alexander, of 375 Chestnut street, was approved by the board of directors of Pottstown hospital last night as a member of the organization's courtesy staff.

Dr. Alexander took his preliminary training at Lehigh University and studied medicine at Heidelberg and Berlin universities in Germany.

A. C. Seawell, hospital administrator, announced that the appointment of Dr. Alexander raised to eight the number of physicians added to the hospital's attending and courtesy staff during the past 14 months.

IN A REPORT FOR February, the board was informed that the hospital had 72 medical cases, 115 surgical, 71 obstetrical and 65 live births.

The Pottstown hospital School of Nursing has been placed on the approved list for 1948 by the Pennsylvania State Board of Nurse Examiners, according to Seawell.

In connection with the nursing school, the hospital plans to start an extensive enrollment program this Spring, the administrator declared, "for young high school graduates to choose nursing as a career."

"We hope to have several scholarships to offer young girls who need outside financial assistance to attend," he added.

ON APRIL 4, a large bronze plaque, containing the names of 20 contributors to the hospital's newest building, will be unveiled in the waiting room.

Weather Prevents Search For 30 Air Crash Victims

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, March 15 (AP)—Clouds wreathed Mount Sanford today, preventing further aerial reconnaissance of the glacier on which a Northwest Airlines transport crashed Friday night, carrying 30 persons to their deaths.

Weather conditions were not expected to improve until tomorrow.

Czech Delegate Won't Give Up U. N. Seat to Red Successor

LAKE SUCCESS, March 15 (AP)—A new Czechoslovakian delegate arrived today to replace anti-Communist Jan Papanek, but Papanek said he would not surrender the delegation offices.

The new delegate, Vladimir Houdek, declined to say whether he would try to dislodge Papanek.

At the New York Czechoslovak consulate late in the day, Houdek said he planned to set up headquarters there temporarily.

A reporter asked Papanek in his nearby Broadway offices whether Houdek was a Communist. "And how!" Papanek replied.

HOUDEK SAID he did not want to discuss his personal politics. He had no comment on Papanek's "And how!"

In a thumbnail description of himself, Houdek said he was an underground fighter against Communism.

MEAT PACKERS STRIKE DESPITE PLEA BY TRUMAN

Sharp Drop in Supply For Nation Seen as 100,000 Stage Walkout

CHICAGO, March 15 (AP)—A strike of CIO packing house workers against the nation's major meat packers and scores of independent packers for higher wages began tonight.

The strike, which an industry spokesman said would cut in half the nation's meat supply, started first in the East at 12:01 a. m. Tuesday.

It was effective in other sections of the country at 12:01 a. m. local time.

A total of 100,000 union workers were called out on strike.

THE STRIKE was called despite a plea to the union from President Truman to hold the walkout in obedience and continue working while a special board of inquiry delved into the dispute.

Mr. Truman had asked the union and the meat packers to continue negotiations until the board, as yet publicly unnamed, reported to him April 1.

Major packers involved are Wilson and company, Armour and company, Swift and company, Cudahy Packing company, and John Morrell and company.

All of these operate a total of some 60 plants throughout the country. Scores of smaller independent plants over the country also are involved.

Ralph Heistner, president of the union, said in a telegram to Mr. Truman:

"Under the circumstances, we hope that you will appreciate that a request for maintenance of the status quo suggests sacrifice by one party, and only one party, to these negotiations, namely the packing house workers."

"SUCH A REQUEST" urges in effect that these employees agree to do exactly what the packing companies are demanding, namely continue production at present low wage rates. Moreover, the submission of the issue to a board of inquiry at this time can serve a purpose.

CAA Plan for Operation Of Airport Is Approved

An airport agreement between the borough of Pottstown and the Civil Aeronautics authority was approved by council last night.

The action was taken at a 35-minute adjourned meeting in the council chambers at borough hall.

The "sponsor's assurance agreement" was a detailed legal document, setting forth the duties and responsibilities of the borough in operating its municipal airport, and the uses to which the field may be put.

One purpose of the agreement is to assure the borough of Federal aid. Grants from the Federal and State governments will total $40,000.

BOROUGH MANAGER DOW I. Sears said that he, Burgess William A. Griffith, J. Max Gresswell, West ward councilman and chairman of the airport committee, and Borough Solicitor Carroll L. Rutter, would go to Harrisburg Thursday to sign the agreement with CAA officials.

The only other major item of business last night was the approval of the resolutions necessary to change the street layout of Brookside Homes, the 112-unit project in the Tenth ward.

Homebreaking for the homes began the past December in spite of the legal difficulties which finally were ironed out last night.

Gerald J. Daly, Ninth ward councilman and chairman of the highway committee, told the councilmen that what was feared would be an extra engineering of $2000, to be paid by the borough, was found at a recent meeting of his.

Judges Prepare to Pick Camp Name Winner

As hundreds of last minute entries in the "Name the Camp" contest flooded The Mercury office last night, representatives of the Spicer Employees' Aid association camp committee and The Mercury prepared to judge the ballots today.

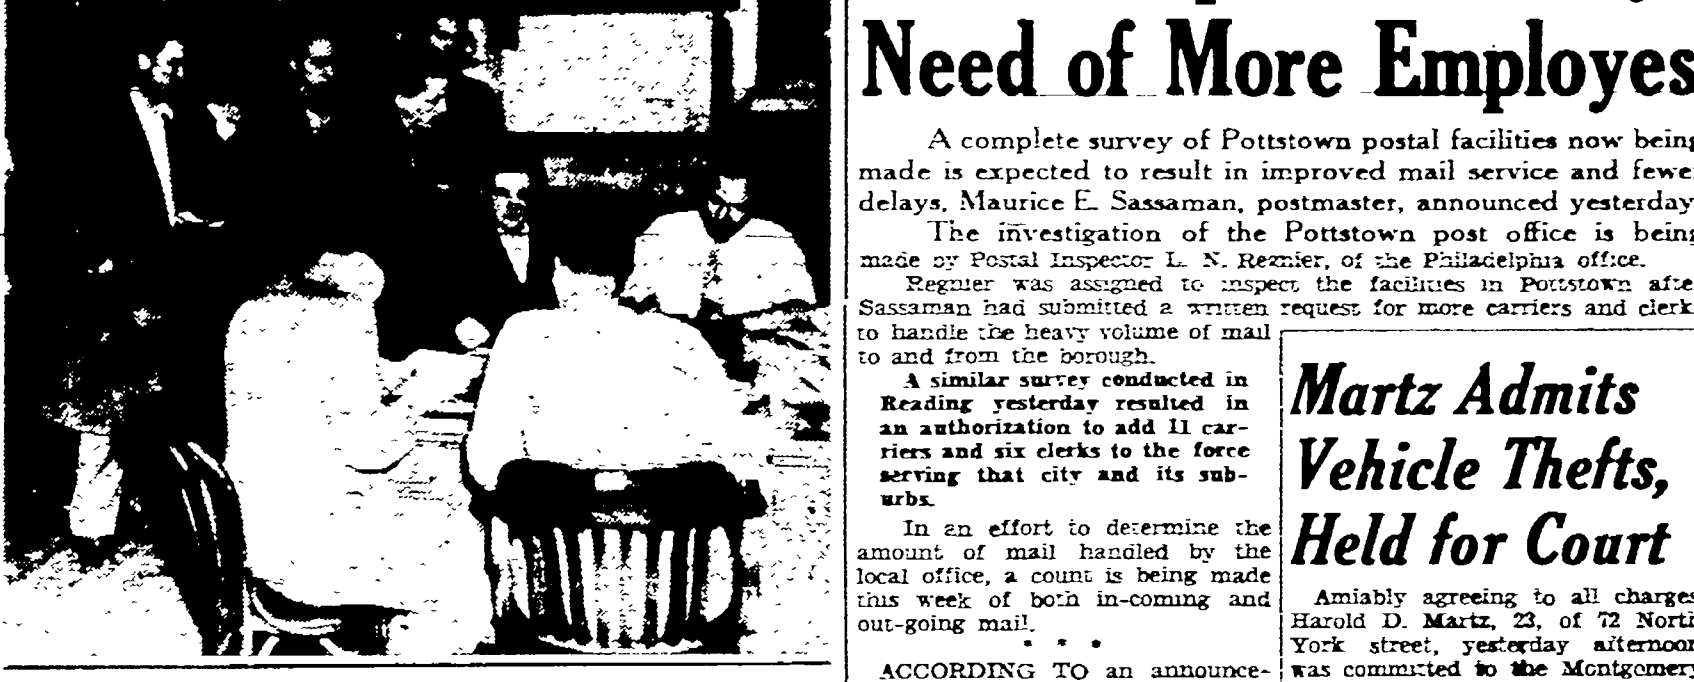

The contest, whose winner will receive a free two-week vacation at the association's new camp at Earlville, ended at midnight last night, to bring thousands of entries through the mail and by personal delivery to The Mercury's office during the past two weeks.

Boxes of ballots will be sorted by the judges today in an effort to determine which lucky boy or girl will receive the prize for naming the camp. The decision of the judges will be final, and all entries are the property of the Spicer Employees' Aid association.

Beating the Tax Deadline

Tardy taxpayers crowd into the second floor of the Pottstown post office yesterday afternoon in an endeavor to beat the March 15 income tax deadline and thus avoid a 5 percent penalty. At the right rear is Lamar Missimer, 369 Beech street. Facing him is Robert Gerhard, 422 Greenville. They are the deputy collectors of internal revenue for the area.

Dr. Weber Again Heads Recreation Commission

Dr. Gustave W. Weber was re-elected unanimously to his ninth one-year term as president of the Pottstown Recreation commission at a meeting last night.

The Hill school's director of religious studies is the only president the commission has had since its formation in June, 1939.

Also re-elected to his ninth consecutive term was Leonard A. Hill, secretary-treasurer.

Hill was the only member of the five-man commission not present last night.

The commission's next meeting will be held April 19.

TAXPAYERS RUSH FEDERAL OFFICE

Internal Revenue Collectors Experience One of Busiest March 15ths in History

"We've never been that busy before on March 15."

This declaration last night by Lamar Missimer, 369 Beech street, deputy collector of internal revenue for the Pottstown area since 1933, summarized the rush of local residents to beat yesterday's deadline for the filing of income-tax returns.

When the door leading to the revenue office on the second floor of the post office opened at 8:45 a. m., Robert Gerhard, 422 Greenville, the other deputy collector, was greeted by a line of late taxpayers that ran out into the street.

Things stayed tough during the morning, but slackened slightly in the afternoon, the collectors reported. But when the office door was locked at 5:30 p. m., there still were a number of late comers rattling the door knob.

Second Man Starts Work for Borough On Water Survey

Charles E. Schwoyer, of 775 Queen street, yesterday became the second man to begin work on the survey of water fixtures being made throughout Pottstown, Stowe and Kenilworth.

He was working at the west end of Beech street with Frank K. Krause, of 495 North Franklin street, in a house-to-house canvass that is expected to bring in additional revenue for the water company.

The survey will be a complete check of all water fixtures in this area. Rates here are on a par fixture basis, and when Borough Manager Dow I. Sears announced the undertaking of the survey he said that forgetfulness was the cause of most failures to report new fixtures added in homes and apartments.

SCHWOYER, a former businessman, is a life-long Pottstown resident.

He was a State food inspector in 1938, and also worked for Montgomery county when a survey of the Pottstown airport was made last year.

Discussing his first day's work on the survey, Schwoyer declared, "People have been very co-operative. If everyone we call on is as helpful, it will be a good thing for the town."

Sears said yesterday that more men would be employed to help in the survey this week.

Spring-Like Weather Sends Mercury Up to 62

Yesterday's weather was mild as a baby's breath, despite the fact that for an hour or two after 3 a. m. the whole northern half of the horizon was illuminated by Eskimo-like Northern Lights.

Arching up from a sunrise 30, the mercury finally hit a high of 62 by mid-afternoon and stayed near there through the small hours this morning.

The showers that fell late last night are expected to continue through today along with the high temperatures. Tomorrow: Cooler.

High School Band Concert Tonight To Display Musicians' Versatility

The Pottstown Senior High School band will run the gamut of jazz to the classics tonight in its concert, aimed at raising funds for uniforms for itself and for the school drill team.

The recital, expected to last an hour and a half, will begin at 8 o'clock in the Senior High auditorium and will be led by William F. Lamb Jr., the band's director.

The 50-piece aggregation will lead off with "Constellation Overture," by Peter Burs, followed by "Bolero," by Walter Smith, played by a trumpet trio consisting of Thomas Miller, Walter Price and Thomas Strickland.

Varying solo and special numbers with those played by the whole orchestra, the band's next offering will be "Deep Purple," by Peter DeRose, to be followed by a tuba solo, "Pompaso," played by Thomas E. Miller.

THE WOODWIND SECTION will play the tricky "Flight of the Bumblebee," by Rimsky-Korsakov, and then a trombone quartet —

Women Grab Prizes For Accident Tips In Weekly Contest

Three alert women readers easily won all three cash prizes in The Mercury's weekly news tip contest yesterday when their reports of accidents were adjudged the best entries of the week.

Mrs. Dorothy Chuck, 505 West Race street, Stowe, won the first prize of $3 for her tip on the fatal accident on West High street the past Friday night. Within minutes after the three-car crash took the lives of two men and seriously injured a third, Mrs. Chuck's call brought Mercury reporters and a photographer hurrying to the scene. Her tip resulted in the dramatic pictures of the crash which appeared in Saturday's edition.

Second prize of $3 was won by Mrs. Bertha Temple, Birdsboro Rd. Mrs. Temple reported the accident in which two sisters, Cecilia and Rita Gnoza, 63 South Evans street, and Dr. Warren D. Phillips, 540 High street, were injured. Their car skidded on a patch of ice on Route 422 near Baumstown.

Jean Mensch, 533 Main street, Pennsburg, won the third prize with a report of an accident in which a car hurled through a guard rail and over a 20-foot embankment Sunday night. The driver of the car, Douglas Stout, Red Hill, was uninjured.

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—The Taft-Hartley ban on political spending by labor unions was ruled unconstitutional today in Federal District court.

Behind Bars

A prison door slammed shut on Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers (above) yesterday in Washington after the former Air Force officer was sentenced to serve a 20-month to five-year sentence.

Air Force General Begins Serving Time

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, who during the war spent millions of the taxpayers' money as an Air Force supply officer, went to jail today to begin serving a 20-month to five-year sentence.

His crime: persuading a former business associate to lie to a senate investigating committee.

A federal court jury the past Friday found Meyers guilty on three counts of what legally is called "subornation of perjury."

THIS MORNING, before passing sentence Judge Alexander Holtzoff called this "a very grave and serious offense."

Under terms of the sentence, the 52-year-old retired officer will not be eligible for parole for 20 months.

Even then, he may have trouble freeing himself. For he also has been indicted for perjury and for falsifying his income taxes.

Meyers' lawyer, Robert T. Bushnell, immediately filed notice that he intends to appeal.

Meyers could have been sentenced for as long as 30 years.

A MAN FELT LIKE HIS BONES WERE BROKEN, DUE TO RHEUMATISM

One man recently stated that for years he felt like the bones in his legs were broken. This was due to rheumatism. His muscles were swollen and his legs so stiff and sore that he couldn't walk without limping. He was in misery. Recently he started taking TRU-AID and says the feeling like his bones were broken appeared the second day. The swelling and stiffness has gone from his muscles, now he can walk without suffering and says he feels like a new man.

TRU-AID is the Three Great Natural Ingredients which go right to the very source of rheumatism and relieve aches and pains. Miserable people won't see relief at all over 30 days if they don't get TRU-AID. See it at All Drug Stores here in Pottstown.

The court ruled that the section in question "is an unconstitutional abridgment of the freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of assembly."

The Justice department announced it will appeal "promptly" to the Supreme court. Attorneys for both sides hoped for a ruling before the high court's mid-Summer vacation recess.

THE ISSUE is important because it will govern the degree of participation of unions in the 1948 campaign. Labor organizations generally have announced elaborate plans for supporting candidates pledged to work for the Taft-Hartley act's repeal.

A special committee of Senate and House members named as a "watchdog" group to keep tabs on how the new labor law is working issued a divided report earlier today.

A majority of the 14-member committee headed by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) praised the law, saying it is working well, preventing strikes and encouraging volume industrial production.

New Movement To Draft 'Ike' Begun in N. Y.

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—A new Eisenhower-for-President movement designed to blitz the Republican national convention with an avalanche of postcards was started today.

Torrey Stearns, 42-year-old New York advertising executive, said his "People for Eisenhower" organization was being launched without the knowledge of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The general recently brought about the dissolution of a national Draft-Eisenhower league by announcing flatly "I could not accept the nomination even under the remote circumstance that it were tendered me."

However, Stearns told a news conference that "if the wishes of all the people can be made known, the preference for Dwight D. Eisenhower will be so overwhelming that neither the general nor the Republican party can deny the people's demand."

THE ADVERTISING executive issued an invitation to all citizens of voting age to mail postcards and letters, stating they want Eisenhower for president.

They will be "loaded on trucks" and taken to the GOP national convention opening in Philadelphia June 21, he added.

Bidault

In an obvious reference to Czechoslovakia, where Communists recently seized control, Bidault said Europe has been "reduced to the 16 nations" represented here.

He explained that his proposed charter for a permanent European organization would consist of a mutual defense treaty dovetailing the economic and social policies of the 16 Marshall plan nations.

Such a unified production and commercial policy should be administered by a new international executive body, he said. The first task of that body, Bidault added, would be to co-operate with the United States in administration of the Marshall plan.

A Tass dispatch from Paris, received in London, predicted that a military bloc would emerge from the conference.

(The Russian news agency said "journalistic circles emphasize that the Paris conference will be used by Bevin and Bidault to draw into a military bloc several other countries besides Britain, France and the Benelux countries.")

BRITISH FOREIGN Secretary Ernest Bevin in a formal statement said Britain intended to make the necessary sacrifices for European co-ordination, but did not intend to sacrifice her special ties with her dominions or her long standing relationships in world trade.

Bevin's statement was regarded as significant. It is believed the conference's efforts to build a platform for a European commonwealth, monetary union and eventual federation depend on the extent to which Britain is willing to become more of a part of Europe. Up to now imperial preferences have been a stumbling block in the first studies of the customs union project.

Senate Gets Bill Calling For 15 Million New Homes

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—Legislation designed to promote the building of 15,000,000 new homes by 1958 was introduced today by Senator Flanders (R-Vt.).

He urged speedy action and expressed hope Congress will deal with the housing problem "on a completely non-partisan basis."

As a member of the joint Senate-House committee on housing, Flanders actually offered a series of amendments to bring the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long range housing bill into line with the recommendations of the committee.

The T-E-W bill has been on the Senate calendar since the past April but still lacks House committee action.

BIG POWERS ASK JEWS AND ARABS ACCEPT TRUCE

Cease-Fire Agreement Urged in Palestine; Reds Shun Discussion

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—The big powers asked Arabs and Jews today if they would accept a truce in Palestine.

The Arab Higher committee, spokesman for Palestine Arabs, again categorically rejected the United Nations plan to partition the Holy Land into Jewish and Arab nations.

The direct appeal for the truce was made to the Arab Higher committee and to the Jewish agency, the official organization for a Jewish national homeland, which supports partition.

The big powers decided to seek the cease-fire agreement in last-minute efforts to salvage something out of 10 days of parleys. The security council meanwhile postponed a scheduled meeting on the Palestine question at Lake Success from today until tomorrow to give the parties time to answer.

DELEGATES of the United States, Russia, China and France will meet again tomorrow in the offices of the Soviet consulate and then report to the council five hours later at Lake Success. Britain has boycotted the big powers meetings on the grounds that she can't support partition.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, who opposes mediation efforts at this stage, took no part in the truce discussion. However, he did not oppose the move. The session was held in the Chinese delegation offices in the Empire State building.

The big powers acted after hearing Isa Mahlaben, representative of the Arab Higher committee in New York. His appearance marked the first time since the U.N. assembly's decision on partition the past Nov. 29 that the Arabs have taken part in U.N. discussions on the plan.

Vet Turns Down Request To Leave Swank Hotel

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—The tired but determined Cox family is extending its weekend at the Waldorf indefinitely—it hopes.

The management wants them out. It tried—in a polite way—to get sell furniture with the lease.

THEY HAD BEEN living in a four-room, cold-water flat in Brooklyn for two years. Over the weekend, housekeeping chores were fairly simple. However, they found out right away that a quart of milk, for instance, costs 90 cents when purchased through room service. The older boy and the adults ate in a nearby cafeteria, and toted extras by paper bag.

The Waldorf is accepting invasion of Cox's little army with considerable reserve, but has given it the routine attentions tendered all guests, including maid service. It even provided cries for the children.

Loyalty Files Ordered Kept From Congress

WASHINGTON, March 15 (AP)—President Truman, ruling in the Condon case, ordered Federal agencies today to refuse to let Congress or the courts have any secret papers bearing on the loyalty of government employees.

He thereby set up what may become a major test between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government. The referee would be the third branch—the Judiciary.

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.), a member of the House un-American activities committee, promptly cried "politics." He told a reporter:

"The President, in an election year, is pulling down an iron curtain be-

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

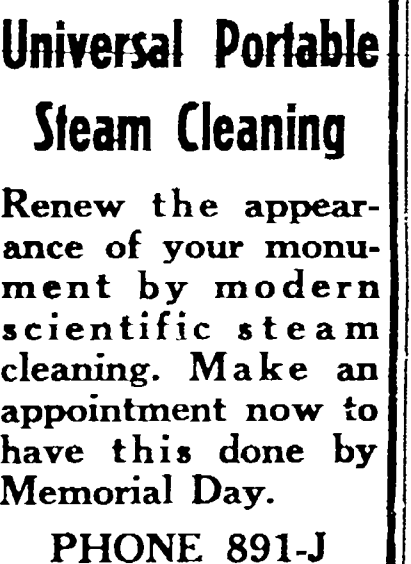

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after a meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of the food.

Every time food enters the stomach, a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles, else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas, frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

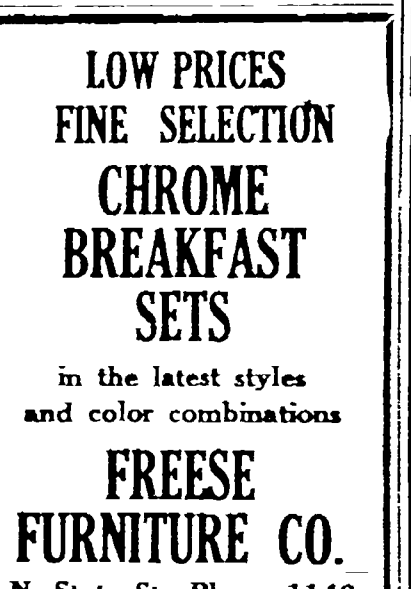

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis which counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Work on New 3-Mile Stretch of Route 83 Begun; Completion Expected in September

Grading on some of the heavier cuts of the new stretch of Route 83 between Kenilworth and Parkersford has begun. H. C. Stackpole, district engineer of the State Department of Highways, announced yesterday.

About 30 men plus five carry-all graders which can dig up 15 cubic feet of earth and carry it away are wading into the job which will bring three miles of 22-foot-wide concrete highway when finished.

The project was started March 8, Stackpole said, and he expects it completed by Labor Day this year.

THE NEW SECTION starts at Parkersford where the concrete ends and extends almost to Kenilworth where it rejoins the old Route 83 lying between the old road and the Schuylkill river, the unfinished road nowhere touches the old highway.

"Luck" is a very good word if you put a P before it.—Anon.

That's Quick Action
POTTSTOWN'S borough councilmen are to be congratulated for their quick action in protecting the lives of citizens.

A danger spot on South Monrovia road, where a railroad grade crossing was unprotected by lights or flasher signals, was branded a killer. And the borough police committee moved to ask the Pennsylvania Utility commission to order the erection of signals there.

At the same time, J. Max Creswell and his committee recognized another danger point at an unprotected grade crossing on West King street, west of Manatawny street. Signals also will be erected there, if the PUC permits.

The Moser road danger spot is particularly dangerous because its approach is by way of a 90-degree curve. Motorists who are unfamiliar with the territory find themselves on top of the crossing without warning. Passing locomotives could wreak a terrific toll.

The King street crossing has piled up accident victims. Just recently a motorist drove his automobile into a freight train. Fortunately none was killed.

With flasher lights or signals at these two danger spots, the chances for loss of life and limb may be reduced.

Teachers Could Be People, Too
IT IS nice to see that the school board of Atlanta, Ga., has decided teachers will be allowed to smoke. It would be even nicer if the board would go still further and correct a multitude of sins against teachers by decreeing that teachers shall be allowed to be human beings.

The theory behind the many proscriptions on public school teachers' conduct is all very well. It is that the teacher should set a good example for the student. In practice, the example is something else entirely. What the harassed, bullied teacher teaches the students by his example is that anyone weak enough to let other people push him around and determine the most intimate details of his private life will not lead an altogether happy one. And if that isn't a bad example, we will engage to eat it, raw.

As for teachers who naturally conform to the typical school board's notion of a teacher, they are, fortunately, rare, and we do not believe they are likely to set students any example, good, bad, or indifferent. No one really wants to imitate perfection. It takes a few amiable vices to rumple up an individual's character a little and make it wearable.

If the lot of tolerance which the Atlanta board has shown could be built onto everywhere, teachers might be helped at their task of teaching by being enabled to meet students on their own imperfect—but nevertheless their—level.

Opportunity Unlimited
SOME very interesting studies have been made in late years on the subject of retailing as a career for young people. The old idea that anybody could do a satisfactory job of working in a store is no longer tenable. Retailing is a complex and highly specialized enterprise. Large stores have as many as 800 different job classifications. And even in very small stores, a long list of aptitudes and skills is required.

Small stores, it is pointed out, frequently offer the best place for training. One person performs a multitude of duties. That is a primary reason why the top people in retail trade today so often began at the bottom in modest stores. They literally learned the job from the ground up.

Opportunity in retailing is unlimited. Practically all of the large stores, including the chain systems, had extremely humble beginnings. Their growth was the inevitable result of their giving the kind of service that the public liked. What happened in the past is happening still. Few enterprises offer the individual so much chance to demonstrate imagination, ingenuity and a brand of personal public relations that makes friends and customers.

Retailing, in all its varied branches, isn't just a job. It's a career. And those who approach it with that attitude have the best chance of going to the top.

Speed Limit Not the Answer
To the Editor: So you think a 35-mile speed limit will stop accidents on West High street, Well, I don't.

This open stretch of highway needs two things to cut down the accident: Better lighting, especially on the south side of the street, and clear and white lines marking off the lanes of traffic.

If you travel that road much at night, as I do, you'll notice that it's difficult to determine one inside lane of traffic from another. When cars pass, the drivers have to guess whether or not they're in the lane of traffic from the opposite direction.

If you think I don't know what I'm writing about, take a look for yourself.

Those Movie Cliches
To the Editor: It's time somebody drew aside those caged apes who draw and write movie advertisements and give them a ditch-uncle talk.

How many times must the ad-reader be subjected to "It's the frolic bit of the season" or "They're the laugh team of the year" or "you'll howl" or "I'll kill for a bling" or "When a gal with a glint in her eye meets the glint of cold steel"!

How many times must the box-office display show a dark close-up of a sneering young man with a cigar leaning out of his mouth while in the background stands a shapely looking blonde with shoulder length hair, a skin-tight evening dress split up the front and a gun in her hand?

Or that favorite for the "comedies"—the guy and the girl kissing while one or both whisks, showing there's more to it than just kissing.

How long can this tough-bellied public hold out before it cracks? Every other form of communication to the public shuns the cliché like a leper colony. But not the movie hucksters. Not by a mug-full. They'd be quicker than silent films if you took the clichés away from them.

Walk Dogs in Alleys
To the Editor: It seems some times that our dumb friends have more sense than we do.

For instance a dog running unleashed rarely stops in the middle of a sidewalk on a Saturday afternoon to do his business, with an audience of embarrassed women and children, not to mention the unsanitariness and filth.

This dog unleashed, would have chose the alley, or at least the curb.

People should be held responsible for these incidents and made to clean the mess up, if they have no consideration for others.

Why can't they take their dogs for a walk in the alleys? After all High street isn't a public bathroom for dogs. Yet some people are persistent in using it for just that purpose. Since these people have their dogs leashed, they are responsible for them, and they are the guilty ones and not the dog.

Pottstown RESPECTABLE CITIZEN

INTERPRETIVE
U. S. to Employ Force To Back Foreign Policy

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

THERE ARE MANY indications that the U. S. government has decided to back its foreign policy with its military might, and that the method, not the principle, is all that remains to be determined.

A flood of public statements in the last few days demanding that stronger action against Russia be added to the war of dollars and words has created a jittery atmosphere. There is widespread talk of the possibility of war within the next few months.

Former Secretary of State Byrnes is advocating a warning to Russia that further aggression will be met directly by American force while the United Nations is being called on to act.

President Truman is awaiting word from the military on what we are prepared to do, and what we can prepare to do in the next few months.

France wants arms from us. Secretary Marshall describes the overall situation as very serious and asks more aid for Greece and Turkey. Britain takes occasion to remind that she has a mutual assistance pact with Turkey.

Italy is threatened with excommunication from the Marshall Plan unless her people eschew Communism.

VLADIMIR MATCHEK, Croatian peasant party leader and former Yugoslav vice premier, says the Soviet must be confronted with "the only argument they understand, force."

Britain's secretary of state for air warns his units of an "extremely grim" international situation "which we have to take into consideration in going about our work."

Herbert Morrison says Britain "is back in the same sort of nightmare of aggression we thought we had banished by disposing of Hitler" and calls for new assistance. So does Samuel Rosenman, special advisor to both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, who says Russian dictatorship has started rolling westward in the Hitler fashion.

You will notice that all this talk is directed not toward war, but toward letting Russia know the dangers of her course. You will also notice the lack of references to Finland, although full advantage is being taken by the Allies of the Czech example of how you can't do business with Communism.

The Truman doctrine never envisaged an active campaign to save countries like Finland and Czechoslovakia, which were already in the Russian orbit a year ago. The object has been to hold the line where it was when we were finally disillusioned about the possibilities of Russian co-operation.

SINCE THEN, in Greece, Turkey, Iran and elsewhere, Russia has avoided taking chances which might bring on war. But she is being goaded now by evidence that what she does not get soon she will never get. The European nations are organizing for defense and economic stability in a fashion which was not believed possible only a few months ago. What the west fears now is that the Kremlin will underestimate the anti-Communist determination, and as it sees time closing in, will make some desperate and fatal move.

That, not a real expectation of immediate war is why the State department intends to assure western Europe of its support no matter what develops.

Our evaluation of the Italian situation probably will have much to do with the method chosen. If there is time, we would prefer to join with a larger group in the United Nations to establish a league against aggression anywhere. If there is not time we may have to cast aside our traditional antipathy and enter into a series of direct alliances.

Hungry Reich Jails Too Efficient Farmer

STUTTGART, Germany, March 15 — A German farmer who relied on "private initiative" to rebuild his damaged place has just been sentenced to five months in jail for his efforts.

The rebuilding was the most successful feature of his operation. In the course of his trial before a court, the farmer delivered 6½ times as much wheat to the government as the schedule required. In the same period he had furnished the "economy" of Germany with almost twice as much in potatoes as he was compelled to produce, and with unrated vegetables worth about $20,000 at peacetime exchange rates.

THE OFFENDING farmer is Dr. Hans Muensinger, 41-year-old son of the director of the agricultural college at Hohenheim. The land which he rented belonged to Duke Albrecht of Wuerttemberg. It's buildings and its grounds were damaged heavily in the course of Allied raids on Stuttgart.

In need of help, Muensinger appealed to the proper authorities in Stuttgart for aid.

When they were refused, the determined farmer went to a camp for German refugees from the former eastern territories, and from Czechoslovakia, and obtained 25 volunteers.

RETURNING TO Stuttgart, he asked for the necessary permissions for his workers to reside in the district, and to receive their normal ration cards. He was refused a second time, on the ground that Stuttgart was overcrowded.

Undaunted, he took his volunteers to the farm and went to work. Buildings were replaced. Fields were cultivated and made productive. In the end he was charged with illegally slaughtering 10 calves, and six pigs, to provide food for his employees.

Hollywood
By EDITH GWYN

HOLLYWOOD, March 15 — Told you we didn't think there was much hope for the Carole Landis-Horace Schmidtpop marriage bark, which seemed to us to be very much on the rocks.

Carole Landis is returning to Broadway to resume her stage career and taking her son, "Burch" Jenkins, now 10, with her. Confirming our report that you wouldn't be seeing the moppet in movies for some time to come.

GERTRUDE LAWRENCE and Noel Coward are supposed to have had a big, fat backstage fight the other night, but he leaves April 1 just the same to go to Jamaica and write a new play for Gertrude. Richard Powers hasn't left the bedside of Vivian Koerner since her sudden and serious operation. But soon he'll have to tear away to go to work in "The Long Daniel" with Maureen O'Hara at RKO for which he's just been signed.

Bugs Bunny, the cartoon rabbit along with Porky Pig and Elmer Fudd are set to "sell" a new candy bar.

CUSTOM TAILORS in Beverly Hills are cutting 30 percent. Lots of restaurants are slashing their prices too—some may be "handwriting on the wall" staff. And too, someone reports a certain nightclub is hiring giant-sized waiters — to make the checks look smaller. Sally Eilers and Holly Morse are due for that wedding flash.

METRO HAS HAD "the musical show to end all musical shows" ever since they bought the line story of "Honeyboy Evans" back in 1936. Now the story of the famed minstrel is off the shelf again and the studio plans to co-star Mickey Rooney and Wallace Beery in it. The title will be changed to "Joe Kinkleman, Be Seated!"

Joe Kinkleman, Jr. was down at the plane to meet Cathy Down when she got back from her personal appearance tour in Texas in connection with "Pauhandie." Bert Bachrach, the Pic Fashion editor is in town on behalf of the Men's Hat Research Foundation. He'll try to persuade producers to stop showing male stars without hats on the screen. That sort of thing has been raising roadshow with the men's hat industry throughout the country.

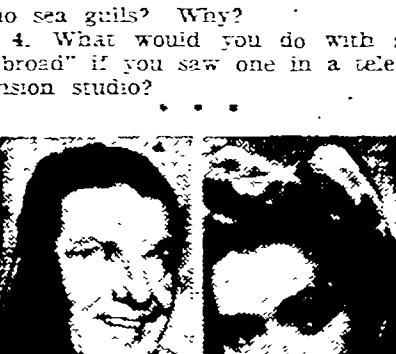

MARTHA STEWART will gather all Joe E. Lewises plus for a party March 31st — because she expects him here in time to celebrate their second anniversary. George Raft gets back to Hollywood next week after filming exteriors for his "Outpost in Morocco" right at the spot. George entertained the G. I.'s and did a lot of benefits in Europe along the way. Paulette Goddard and Burgess Meredith are taking out loud about doing a picture in France soon.

How's Your Mind?
THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. What mother raised her four sons to become criminals and was killed with one of them resisting arrest in 1935?

Ex-child actor Ex-vaudeville

JOBS UPON A TIME
Frank Fay, whose recent comeback to the stage was the successful "Krazy," began his career at the age of seven in "Babies in Toyland." Later he was in the Winter Garden shows in New York, then in musicals, vaudeville, as master of ceremonies at night clubs in various cities. He made his screen debut in 1929 in "Show of Shows." Fay was born in San Francisco.

ALICE FAYE is a New Yorker, studied dancing, was in vaudeville, stage shows and in the chorus of "The New York Stage in Scandals." Rudy Vallee was responsible for bringing her to public notice as vocalist with his radio show. She afterwards appeared with him on the screen in "George White's Scandals."

MODERN MANNERS
Shooting and pushing ahead of other people in line to board a train, bus or street car is very bad manners. Just as annoying as the person who doesn't have the ticket or fare ready and must jumble for it, causing delay to others.

IT HAPPENED TODAY
Taverns were first licensed in New Amsterdam (New York) on March 16, 1648. James Madison, fourth United States president, was born in 1751, and the United States Military academy was established in 1802, same day of the month. The academy was opened in N. Y. the same year, at West Point, N. Y.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY
Many happy returns of the day to Elsie Janis, entertainer and author. James Pettillo, musicians and "cray" and Jim O'Day, baseball catcher.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?
1. Arizona Baker, widely known as Kate or "Ma Barker."
2. One and one-half billion have been counted, but estimates of the total number say there may be three hundred billion.
3. Shanghai and the reason is that many poor families live in junks at the water's edge and take or use as food all refuse thrown aboard from ships in the harbor.
4. See by it. In a television studio, a broad is a general illumination unit.

Voice of Broadway

News! News! News!

LOU BUSCH and the pretty and talented Jane Blair of the movies have their friends worried. They hear she has consulted lawyers and instructed them to whip up the papers.

Philaedelpia blueblood Elizabeth Vining, private tutor to Japan's Crown Prince Adinoto, is seeking permission to bring the young prince to this country when she comes here for a visit, in the near future. Insiders say the next big expose of dope smuggling will feature Long Island and Andre Kostelanetz hospitalized on the Coast. An emergency appendectomy. James Mont's bill for decorating the 20-room Dan Topping apartment will be $92,000. When he started the job, Mrs. T. gave him one note of instruction: "Make the bedrooms sunny and sexy."

Hollywood scuttlebutt insists that the howl and Hughes deal to purchase RKO is all set and waiting only a few minor details before the announcement is made public. Dore Schary and Ned Depinnel are slated to get contracts through 1952 with the new outfit.

FRENCH ACTRESS Danielle Darrieux and Pierre Kubisa, whom she divorced Porfirio Kubisa, are a loving duet again. They split when Pierre's family objected to Danielle as a prospective daughter-in-law. The new rhumba sweeping Cuba is called "The Patricia" — for Patricia "Satira" Schmidt, central figure in the recent yacht killing. Lucius Beebe and Chuck Clerks' next book, scheduled for 1949 by Dutton, will be titled "Wells Fargo, Bandits, Bonanza, Booze!"

Booze! Rich, who broke his arm in three places, has a sling to match each of his 30 suits. Frederick Wakeman, who already has lam-pooned, harpooned and impaled the advertising business and the New York theatrical scene, is contemplating a similar novel on Hollywood. (Aw, that one was done by Budd Schulberg.)

ALL ABOUT THE TOWN
The Gift That Counts...
Pottstonians Eulogized...

GIFT — Leon C. MacMullen, who as chairman of the Pottstown Citizens Airport committee has been "pulling teeth" trying to get contributions to the fund, has come up with his finest. MacMullen got a check for $120 from C. Edmund Wells, Pottstown lawyer. "It appears that my bill for expenses and services, submitted to the borough actually is to be paid out of funds contributed by my fellow-citizens," wrote Wells. "Under the circumstances, I should like to contribute my services and am returning your check for cancellation!" MacMullen now is canvassing professional men for airport funds. He needs $5000 to make his chairmanship a success.

GRADUATE — Charles S. Novak Jr., former West Pottsgrove and Pottstown High graduate, has completed a special aviation course at a New York school and now is employed at an eastern airplane manufacturing company. He's a former Navy Man. Leon C. MacMullen will open his new Pottstown furniture store tomorrow after months of preparation. It will be located in the Singer building, 365 High street. The Wallace cafe on South Hanover street has closed its doors.

MONUMENT — In memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Graham, of Pottstown, a set of tower chimneys was presented to St. Marks Episcopal church, in Mesa, Ariz., by their children recently. Mr. Graham was once editor of the Pottstown Daily News and justice of the peace in the Fourth ward. His wife, Alice Frick Graham, was a school teacher here before she married, and devoted much of her time to civic work both in Pottstown and in Harrisburg.

SERVICE — Talk about service, this one tops them all. Stephen E. Surman, of 401 East Race street, Stowe, went to visit old friends at the Publix Shirt corporation plant, at Beech and Evans streets, the other afternoon. He chatted a while, then left in a cab to go downtown. Much to the surprise of the shirt workers, soon afterward the cab came back. No Surman this time, but a cab driver bearing drinks, which the thoughtful ex-employee sent back to his friends.

SLIPS THAT PASS IN THE NIGHT — Ad in the New York Post: "Young man, 31, university, must have part-time work, evenings, week-ends; just had baby, can't stay home." That's probably how he got into his present difficulty in the first place. GIVE-AWAY DEPT.—Dr. A. Theodore Grayev, 38 North Washington street, has a black and tan female puppy, eight months old, for the first caller offering the dog a good home.

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CONRAD Z., aged 18, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, during the past few years I have grown panicky whenever I pass a house where there are flowers and creep outside, indicating a person has died," he began our discussion.

"I simply cannot look at a coffin. For example, my grandfather died recently, but I couldn't force myself to enter the house, and I wouldn't attend the funeral, although my parents were shocked at my behavior."

"At night I become afraid, for I keep thinking of coffins, so that I cannot go to sleep. Often I'll waken out of my sleep, and immediately I visualize a coffin beside my bed, with the lid open and flowers piled within."

"What is wrong with me? Other people don't seem to have this fear. I've tried to reason with myself, but it doesn't do much good."

PEOPLE DON'T develop fears without a cause. Therefore, we must try to place our diagnosing finger on the specific event or fact which started Conrad's dread.

A coffin itself does not produce fear or pleasure unless it is associated with the corresponding emotions. I remember reading about a star salesman in the East who sold something like 200 coffins in one summer.

He went around the farmers and townfolk selling them by the house-to-house method.

"Why shouldn't a coffin be an intimate, friendly part of the family?" he argued.

"Why not use it for a piece of furniture, or as a cedar chest? Let your children grow up with it. Learn to look upon it as a friend, as a member of your household."

Then, when one of the family passes on, let him be gently laid to rest in this friendly piece of furniture.

Don't import a strange box, but let him be accompanied with an intimate piece of furniture, a warm household friend, over which he has romped and played throughout the years.

The salesman's arguments were sensible.

Why do most people feel afraid of coffins and death? Because from earliest childhood they have associated tears and gloom with such objects.

And what do tears mean to a child? Why, pain, of course! So they view with dread and shuddering such things as death, funerals, and coffins.

But most children don't lie awake at night seeing coffins. So Conrad must have an extra reason for torturing himself with such fears. What is your diagnosis?

Two factors usually underlie such a situation. Either Conrad has felt guilty because of self-sex practices, and therefore fears lest God kill him, thus bringing the coffin to his bedside in reality.

Or he has a deep animosity toward his father or a brother, so that he has subconsciously wished for the death of the latter, and his conscience there-upon punishes him by this coffin complex.

The latter "death wish" proved to be his basic problem.

It also explains many cases of nervous breakdowns in young mothers who lose their prima donna dominance of the family stage as soon as the first baby is born.

Chester E. White Elected by Elks As Exalted Ruler

Chester E. White, moving up automatically, became exalted ruler of Pottstown Lodge 814, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, last night as the organization held annual elections.

White will replace B. Frank Christman as chief of the lodge for the coming year. He and other officers will be installed April 15.

Other officers who advanced a post were Stanley E. Harp, esteemed leading knight; Donald O. Kunkle, esteemed loyal knight; Joseph R. Whitacre, esteemed lecturing knight; Aldus J. Seldomridge, esquire, and Kenneth Fleischman, inner guard.

Walter S. Zimmerman, secretary, and Harry M. Zook, treasurer, announced that the annual banquet for the membership will be held Thursday night at 7 o'clock. A floor show will be included.

The retiring ruler also told members that the national Elks convention will be in Philadelphia on July 4, sandwiched between the Democratic and Republican political conventions there.

The State convention will be held in Reading Sept. 2.

Father, Son Week Group Hears Final Reports

Final reports on the 1948 Pottstown Father and Son Week were made last night at a meeting in the Y.M.C.A. and preliminary plans were made for the 1949 event.

J. R. Sotter, general chairman of the observance committee that represented some 30 local groups, reported that the 1948 affair was marked advance over the previous one, both in the number of people attending the events and in the number of churches and clubs participating.

The committee decided to seek another improvement next year by getting an earlier start with plans. Sotter, James F. Baird and Charles Flickinger were elected as trustees who will serve as a nucleus of the committee until the first organizational meeting Sept. 13.

SERVICES HELD —

Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward, announced last night that he will mail a reckless-driving summons to Rice's home today. The summons is based on a complaint made by Pottstown Patrolman Paul Bridgeham, who said he saw Rice's car driving west on High street near Madison street at 10:28 o'clock, 30 minutes before the fatal crash.

At the funeral services, the Rev. Harvey Showers, pastor of Temple Baptist church, took as his text a quotation from the Book of Kings: "Set thy house in order, for thou shalt die and not live."

Enlarging on this text, the Rev. Showers said, "The modern age we now have is moving too fast." In both a moral and physical sense, he asserted, "Youngsters of today should slow down. The speed at which they are going is reckless."

During and after the services for Waid Jones, 22, of 381 East Vine street, and his friend, Harry Wright, 16, of 4 Grosstown road, in Mt. Hermon Baptist church, Stowe, there also was a steady stream of local residents to the West High street "auto graveyard" where the two shattered cars that crashed head-on in the three-car accident have been taken.

Close examination of the two smashed sedans revealed that each had hit the other with the right side, the side away from the driver. Apparently when they saw the crash coming, both drivers instinctively had swung their wheels to prevent being struck on the driver's side. Or one of the cars had been far over in the wrong lane of traffic on the long curve near Howard street, Stowe.

TROOPER ZIMMERMAN had no further report to make on his investigation. He said he was trying to contact every person who was in the area at the time, and told Cadmus that he would have a list of witnesses at the inquest.

It probably will not be held for several weeks, since Rice is suffering from a re-break of an arm, for which he had been treated earlier at the Army hospital.

Avondale Police Chief Clifford Conner reported that, as far as he knew, Rice had never been involved in an accident previously. He added that Rice, a veteran with an artificial left leg, had not driven until he was given a car by the Federal government after his discharge from the Army in 1945.

Martz, the young girl and George Kinckner, the 16-year-old son of the owner of the car, were in the car on Tuesday night, March 5, when they ran out of gas near Penn Village.

Young Kinckner trudged to a West High street service station and brought back a five-gallon can of fuel. When they started up again and came back to the gas station, they stopped the car and Kinckner went inside to return the can.

"When I came out the car was stolen," declared the slightly-built youth.

LATER, MARTZ and the girl were involved in a collision in Middletown, where their car struck another, kept going and then smashed into a telephone pole. They immediately left the scene.

So far, Laughhead said after yesterday's hearing, Middletown police have made no move to lodge a detainer against Martz. A warrant was sworn out against him there on a charge of hit-run driving.

Martz was arrested by Baltimore, Md. police, the night of March 10 and was brought back here the past Saturday by Laughhead and Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads.

THE GIRL WAS TAKEN into custody by Baltimore juvenile authorities, but "there was nobody around and I just walked out."

West Pottsgrove PTA Revamps Old System; Plans 'New Look' for Future Meetings

Last night members of the West Pottsgrove Parent-Teacher association completely revamped their system of holding meetings, resolved the type of program to be had, and otherwise acquired a "new look" for PTA organizations at the regular meeting held in the school building.

Believing for a long time that the children attending the meetings with their parents caused a great distraction from business, and knowing at the same time that a great number of parents miss seeing their children in the school building, the members decided that during the time the meeting was in progress the children were to witness movies in the activity room and the parents would meet to discuss the business in the library. They decided, further, that shorter programs would be given to having more time for the business.

The program last night was directed by Mrs. George A. Kercher, librarian, and was a skit presented by the pupils of Mrs. Henry Espenhang showing the proper way which pupils should study in the library.

DURING THE BUSINESS session, plans were made for a cake sale to be held May 21. Mr. Levensgood was appointed chairman of the social committee to take charge with the following aides: Mrs. Austin Francis, Mrs. Chester Boyer, Mrs. John Viscardi, Mrs. Richard Steigewalt and Miss E. Virginia Raunley.

Mr. James Jones was appointed head of the nominating committee with Mrs. Levensgood and Mrs. George Wright to assist him.

Plans were also made for a fifteen supper to be held at the next meeting April 21 with Mrs. Austin Francis named chairman of the committee in charge. Assisting her will be Mrs. Earl Zimmerman, Miss E. Virginia Raunley, Mr. Robert Sienker, Mrs. John Abrams, Mrs. Gerald Levensgood, Mrs. Edward Levensgood and Mrs. Chester Boyer.

Mr. James Jones, supervising principal, introduced to the audience two new teachers who recently started, Miss E. Virginia Raunley, physical educational instructor, and Mr. William J. Sullivan, industrial arts teacher.

Charm School Hears History of Perfume By Miss Jean Koogle in YWCA Club Room

Before the largest group of girls to attend the Charm school, Miss Jean Koogle, New York, last night addressed the girls in the history and use of perfume for the closing course of the school when they met in the club room of the YWCA building.

Miss Koogle told the group that the use of perfume can be as enhancing as the girls will have it if used correctly. She suggested the application of it, not only behind the ears, but on the wrists, ends of elbows, and the neck as well.

SHE ADVISED THEM to use a fragrance that expressed their personality and told them the best way of knowing that, was to select one that appealed and suited themselves greatly. She added, to use that which gave them a sense of security and a feeling of poise.

She said that the field of perfume was divided into three classes, the perfume, toilet water and cologne, suggesting that perfume be saved for the big events, toilet water used for luncheons and that cologne be used for after bathing and as a skin fresher. She further suggested that all three be kept in the refrigerator.

In tracing the history of perfume, Miss Koogle stated that the Egyptians were the first to use it, from which it was transported to France and later to Rome, and from that country the French stole it to have it become one of their major industries.

TODAY IT TAKES as long as five years to develop a new perfume and as many as 1500 ingredients are used in its manufacture.

Following the close of the charm school last night, a luncheon was served the girls at a table complete with the best china and silver. At the time, YWCA officials complimented the girls on their good behavior, on being on time for every meeting and on their intelligent questions which they presented at the end of each lecture. They were particularly complimented on the remarkable progress they had made in the school, and on their general attitude on coming to the school in all seriousness and with a purpose in mind.

The officials are hoping that next year they will be able to extend to the girls a like school and in some ways to be able to improve upon the course given them.

SHE ADVISED THEM to use a fragrance that expressed their personality and told them the best way of knowing that, was to select one that appealed and suited themselves greatly. She added, to use that which gave them a sense of security and a feeling of poise.

"I'll say good-bye now,
Ann. I'm expecting an important call"

GOOD IDEA, young lady, but...
How many "important" calls come unexpected?
That's why it's wise to keep all telephone conversations reasonably brief. You never know when a friend may be trying to reach you, with news you wouldn't want to miss!

Brief calls give your party-line neighbors a break, too

Keeping calls brief is part and parcel of party-line courtesy. Take the lead in good "party-line manners." Others on the line will follow suit, and service will be better for everyone.

Group Evaluates Senior High School

A committee of 20 secondary school educators, one of many sponsored by the Commission on Secondary Schools, yesterday began a three-day job of evaluating the Pottstown Senior High School curriculum.

After a thorough inspection of all phases of the school's activities, the committee will rate the instruction either "adequate" or not adequate. Dr. Frank M. Hanson, superintendent of schools, explained last night.

The purpose of the evaluation, he pointed out, is to form a basis for improvement of the school by means of the recommendations offered by the committee and the "stimulated thinking" it produces in the school's own teachers.

The superintendent also made clear the point that many colleges are hesitant about accepting students from non-accredited schools.

The commission is recognized by the department of public instruction and co-operating with it.

Leonard A. Rice, English instructor at The Hill, is a member of the committee inspecting the Senior High school.

liveries. Postal regulations for carrier service require continuous sidewalks and at least 50 percent development of the area served.

Increased development, particularly of the outlying areas, has meant only an extension of present routes, increasing the burden of the 14 regular and three substitute carriers now employed.

Regner, who already has inspected the clerical facilities of the local post office, is expected to make a tour of the delivery routes soon.

A spokesman for the Chief Postal Inspector's office in Philadelphia yesterday revealed the inspection is being made to help Sassaman avoid delays in the future.

"I think you'll see some rapid improvement there shortly," he declared.

group to be a maximum of $400, known would be absorbed in the cost of the homes.

COUNCIL APPROVED the third and final readings of two measures—the tax ordinance for 1948, and the ordinance to have the sewer between Queen and South streets and Madison and Eden streets.

Seas, in his report, told councilmen of the beginning of the complete sewer survey and said it was "going very well."

Work on the installation of the new fire alarm system was progressing satisfactorily, he reported, with approximately a month required to complete the work.

"The only problem will be to find a place to erect the two new sirens," Seas pointed out.

ON TUESDAY, MARCH 23, Seas and water company officials will go to Pottstown where the water purification process, proposed for Pottstown, is in use.

At the council meeting of March 8, this new chlorine dioxide system was approved on a trial basis, at a nominal cost of not more than $300 to the borough.

If successful and approved for permanent adoption, it will cost approximately $1000.

Seas warned at the March 8 meeting that there was no guarantee that the new system would work, but that it was recommended highly by chemists and engineers.

The following councilmen were present last night: Earl R. Strange and Creswell, West ward; Elington B. Heck and William G. Romich, Second ward; George P. Ruvak and Peter J. Lawler, Third ward; Harold Spier and William B. Twaddell, Fourth ward; Mahlon P. Beck and William H. Reifensnyder, Sixth ward; William F. Lamp Sr. and Allen K. Davidheiser, Eighth ward; and C. Roy Bush, council president, and Daly, Ninth Ward.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

How Many Hugs You?
IN YOUR PLAY for a suit contract, the height of your side's trumps is important as the number of cards held by yourself and your partner. That is the factor which determines whether or not you can remove the defenders' trumps before your own are gone. The factor of honor strength applies with practically equal force to all four suits. It helps during the auction to bear in mind that aces, kings and queens in side suits usually take the same number of tricks as if they were in trumps.

What a difference in skill between the bidding at those two tables of a tournament. At Table 1, South was one of those chaps wedded to the expression "biddable suit" and has not yet learned that a major suit of any five cards is usually worth bidding. Having no high cards at its top, he could find nothing to say except Clubs, so his poor partner landed in an unmakeable eleven-trick contract in which he had to lose two tricks in spades and one in hearts, even though he guessed the club finesse right.

At Table 2, South had learned from experience that a bid like his 1-Spade was winning bridge, especially when he had such a neat fit for the clubs and that beautiful singleton top in diamonds. North did exactly right on his second turn to bid his hearts. When South then showed the club fit at the three level, North knew he could safely try a shift to spades with just three of the suit. Not having supported the spades on his first chance to do so, North could not possibly have four of them, as his pair bids, so, if of South's suit had been just a four-carder, he would have shifted to clubs. This South made his game, losing two spades and one heart, with the club finesse guessed right.

Coach Herb Meyers (right background) clocks five Pottstown High distance runners as they take the final turn and head down the home stretch in a practice run on the Franklin field cinders yesterday afternoon. The runners are (left to right) George Cohrac, Leon Madeja, Ed Wood, Glenn Christman and Russ Fries. Fries and Cohrac are milers, Wood and Christman are quarter-milers and Madeja specializes in the half mile. With the temperature hitting 60 in the late afternoon yesterday, Meyers was able to get another good look at his track candidates outdoors after a week of indoor practice sessions.

Strong Boyertown Quintet Here for Kiwanis Tourney

The Boyertown VFW basketball team, runner-up to the Berks County Recreation league Northern division title and winner of the local YMCA Christmas tournament the past December, comes to Pottstown tonight with its sights set on another cage championship — the Pottstown Kiwanis Invitational tournament.

The Boyertown aggregation, one of Berks county's strongest independent basketball teams, is one of the top-seeded teams in the tournament and are expected to at least reach the semi-finals.

The Berks county VFW cagers will face UAW 644's Autoworkers of Pottstown tonight in their first test. The game is the first of a doubleheader on tap at the Pottstown Junior High palestra scheduled to start at 7:15 o'clock.

The second game will bring another strong Berks county cage team to Pottstown. Pete's Vets of Reading, strong contenders for an independent league championship in Reading, will battle Brownback's Collegians in the nightcap at 8:30 o'clock.

EVEN THOUGH established heavy favorites, the Boyertown quintet will meet some trouble tonight in the Autoworkers. UAW 644 finished third in the Pottstown City league but was eliminated in the semi-finals of the Shaughnessy playoffs by the Pottstown Tool and Engineering company.

With such players as Toup Edelman, Al Raudot, Bus Conner and Mooney Shaner, the Autoworkers appear to be one of the underdogs in the tournament. By reaching the finals of the City league the past year and getting as far as the semi-finals this season, the UAW five can be rated as one of Pottstown's top basketball teams.

The Collegians in their first year of tournament competition failed to make an outstanding showing, but did manage to finish sixth in the City league.

COMPOSED OF FORMER North Coventry High school cagers, the Collegians have an age advantage over some of the teams in the tournament, but don't play the brand of basketball that will gain the tournament title.

Pete's Vets are rated heavy pre-game favorites and are expected to advance into the quarter-finals without any trouble.

APPOINTED END COACH

Four Die, 45 Hurt In Plant Explosion

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 15 (AP)—An unexplained explosion at the International Harvester company's farm equipment manufacturing plant here today killed four men, injured 45 and did extensive damage.

The blast came just as the day shift was replacing the night shift in a 15 by 75 foot brick and steel building used for testing engines made in the main plant nearby.

The violent explosion virtually demolished the testing building, damaged the main plant and other structures, hurled men and machines through the air and shook large sections of Louisville.

Three men were killed in the testing building. One died later at a hospital. Eleven others were so badly hurt they had to remain in hospitals. At least 34 received first aid treatment at the scene.

Normally 56 of the company's 4000 Louisville employees worked in the testing building but the change of shifts caused many workers to be uncertain how many were there at the time of the explosion. Many of the injured were not in the testing structure but were hit and hurt by flying debris.

Acress Gets Annulment of 'Kissless' Marriage

LOS ANGELES, March 15 (AP)—A film actress-bridge who said she went kissless on her wedding night—and thereafter—because her husband was "too shy" was granted an annulment of her marriage today.

"He never kissed me during our two years and four months of married life," testified Jacquie Lynn, 23, today in her action against Paul Haertel, 25, Merchant Marine officer.

"He said he was too shy, but I also was shy so I didn't worry about it at first," Haertel did not contest her suit.

Farm Worker Admits Axe Slaying of Employer

NEW ULM, Minn., March 15 (AP)—Sheriff John A. Johnson, of Nicollet county, said today that Otto Adam, 58-year old bachelor farm hand, had orally confessed the axe slaying of his employer, Stanley Baumann, 24.

The body of Baumann, farmer five miles east of New Ulm, in Nicollet county, was first discovered hidden in a hog house. After authorities had been notified it was found chopped up and stuffed into a livestock feed cooker.

Sheriff Johnson said Adam was taken into custody on the Baumann farm. He added that Adam would give no reason for the killing.

Finnish Tell Russians Their Nation Opposes Military Pact, Hopes to Avoid World War

HELSINKI, Finland, March 15 (AP)—Finnish President K. Paasikivi has informed Prime Minister Stalin that while the Finns are willing to negotiate a treaty with Russia they hope to stay out of international conflicts.

Groups in the Finnish parliament have expressed doubt concerning the conclusion of an agreement of a military character, the president said. Paasikivi, in a letter to Stalin, emphasized that any Finnish-Russian treaty requires the approval of the Finnish parliament.

The letter was in answer to Stalin's proposal that the two countries negotiate a treaty of co-operation. The text of the letter was published today by the Finnish foreign ministry a day after excerpts from it had been printed in the Moscow press. The letter was sent the past Tuesday.

Negotiations on the projected pact will open in Moscow next Monday. The Finnish delegation will leave Helsinki Saturday.

PAASIKIVI'S LETTER said in part:

"Seeing that the conclusion of the treaty in question, according to the Finnish constitution, requires approval of parliament, the (Finnish) government has submitted the proposal included in your letter to a preparatory examination by the parliamentary groups.

"The matter having been considered by the aforementioned groups, doubts were expressed by parliamentary quarters in regard to conclusion of a military agreement. Especially after the hardships endured during the past war, the Finnish people hope to be able to remain outside of international conflicts.

"In wishing by all available means to promote and develop good and confident neighborhood relations between Finland and the Soviet Union, the government accepts the proposal to enter upon the said negotiations. The government presupposes that the factual content of the agreement in all respects will be freely considered and decided during negotiations."

A government committee met today with a parliamentary committee to inform it of the progress made so far in working out directives to guide Finland's seven-man negotiating group. Paasikivi has decided to keep parliament fully informed of all developments in connection with the proposed pact.

Government Forces Called to Action To Put Down Costa Rica Revolution

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, March 15 (AP)—Government forces marshalled all their strength today in an attempt to stamp out a revolution sweeping through this Central American republic.

The capital was virtually isolated, with three-fourths of its power plants blown up. Business came to a standstill. Two plane loads of rural troops arrived at dawn to help defend the city.

The leader of the revolutionary forces is Jose Figueres, who occupies a hidden mountain stronghold south of Cartago, about 45 miles from San Jose.

He broadcast over a secret radio that his forces wiped out half of a government mobile unit sent to oust him. Government sources said their unit, which was trained by the U. S. Army, had captured 11 of Figueres' men.

THE RADIO, which calls itself "the voice of freedom," said government troops sent by water from Puntarenas met with disaster yesterday. The force was cut to pieces and 2 soldiers killed, the radio said.

Additional broadcasts said revolutionaries were in control of San Isidro airport, 75 miles southeast of San Jose. The anti-government forces are reported to have three TACA airlines DC-3 planes in their possession. A power plant at Alajuela, 20 airplane miles west of San Jose, was blown up.

Common snapping turtles have been known to grow to 75 pounds in weight.
